"RELIGIOUS REVIVAL." Under this head the N. Y. Tribune has the tollowing:

"Awful Gardner's" Story of Himself. "Awful Gardner," the converted pugilist, was present on Sunday evening at a meeting in the Methodist Church in Green street, and narrated to the congregation the circumstances of his conversion, as follows:

"I feel it my duty to tell you what God has done for me. I hope you will hear all I have to say. There are many here who have known me for ten years-bave known me 1 do of when I was fearfully wicked. Now I am on the Lord's side. I want it thoroughly understood that now I am on the Lord's side. I was on a visit to my brother in the country, about twenty-eight miles away, at a town called Portchester. When I went there I had as much idea of getting religion as many of you have now; that is, none at all. But I hope when you get home you cannot rest or sleep till you get religion. I went to church 17th, 1858. in that town for accommodation, that's all, to the folks. The Saviour was there. The Lord's spirit was powerfully displayed, and | 1 prize went from heart to heart all through the 2 prizes of church. It worked upon me three or four 2 nights. The paster of the church came to 2 do of me and asked me if I would not like to get religion and serve God. I answered, "No. 1 4 do didu't care about it just then," and told him a lie, for I did; I felt as though I wanted re-

I got dreadfully uneasy, and made up my mind I had better leave that part of the country; it was getting too warm for me. I told my brother I was going to New York in the morning. He said, "Wait another day," and I made up my mind I would stay and attend another night. Some remarks were made to backsliders the next night, many of whom I knew; they sat there unmoved. The minister and my friends had been trying to get me to be a Christian, but the devil said, "Don't be taken in by those fellows." After church that night, as we 1 were going home-the minister lived up our way-I made some remark about those backsliders, saying to him that if I were in their place I would come out like a man, and seek religion over again.

The minister told me that he thought I was a very great sinner; that I stood in a critical condition, and was more likely to be lost than any of them. I said to my brother, if that was the way the minister was going to talk, I would go. I got my carpet bag ready next day and started; I opened the door; I wanted to go and I didn't want to go; and I hoped my brother would again urge me stay; he did so, and so I stayed. That was Saturday. After I had my dinner I resolved that I would seek the Lord that night. I made a strong resolution; I felt where I stood that perhaps it was the last time the Lord would strive with me. Saturday night the invitation was given to come forward to the altar-on my shoulders my lead of sins-up I went with them the cross of Christ upon my back. I got up and threw my sins down by the altar. I tried as hard as a man ever did, and I got no religion. Sunday night I attended with a like result. That night I could not sleep, my sins looked so bad; they came up on every band and looked at me; all the sins of my life crowded upon me, many I should never have thought of, had not the devil brought them before me. I could not sleep; I wiggled and waggled around the bed all night; the Lord was striving with me. Monday morning I got up and prayed; I did the best I could; I asked the Lord to take ay the weight that bore me down so .-There was a friend came to me that day and said be was going over to White Plains and I could go with him. Knowing 1 would be in good company I concluded to go, thinking he might do me some good. There was little said on the way, but he told me to keep looking for the Saviour; that I was trying to get religion, and had let everybody know it; the Lord was willing to bless me at any time or any where. I was riding along, singing a hymn, and in an instant I felt as though I was blessed. I am sure I gave up my soul and body. The first thing I knew, God spoke peace to my soul. It came like a shot-it came like lightning, when I was not anticipating it and the first thing I said, was, "Glory! God bless me." My friend sald he knew it; he felt the shock too. We rode against a had been blessed; everything appeared to Glory to God, this religion is good! The Lord has blessed me ever since. My faith in him grows stronger every day. I would face all the people that God ever put on earth, and tell them all I am bound for heaven. My heart says, see the scorner; I say, I will go pray for him. Everything is pleasing. I love those I used to hate. Now, that shows pretty good for religion -don't it, brothers? [Yes, yes.] Men that I used to seek to injure, I love now; I pray for them. I dont hate a soul that God little letter than the sinner, but I love you too! I would not swap this religion for all calls me. They talk about noise here-what in 2 will be entitled to $20, and so on to 0. will it be when we get to heaven? I have tested the world's pleasures, but religion is the only thing that will make a man happy here, and is the only thing that will make him happy hereafter. There are a great many here that know me, and it is no doubt a mystery to them that God should accept such a creature. Now is the time to step to the altar. Don't say to God let me accomplish this or that, and then I will seek you. When you receive the religion of Jesus Carist you are the rich st person on earth. Come at once. Clear the way, here! Seats
